EST. MODUS IN REBUS.

10-PAGE EDITION.

TUESDAY, OCT. 6, 1891.

EVERY YEAR.

I feel 'tis growing colder
Every year;
And my heart, alas! gets older
Every year.
I can win no new affection;
I have only recollection,
Deeper sorrow and dejection,
Every year.

Of the loves and sorrows blended
Every year;
Of the joys of friendship ended
Every year;
Of the ties that still might bind me
Until Time to Death resigned me,
My infirmities remind me
Every year.

Ah! how sad to look before us
Every year;
When the cloud grows darker o'er us
Every year;
When we see the blossoms faded
That to bloom we might have aided,
And immortal garlands braided
Every year.

To the past go more dead faces
Every year.
As the loved leave vacant places
Every year.
Everywhere the sad eyes meet us;
In the evening's dusk they greet us,
And to come to them entreat us,
Every year.

Yes, the shores of life are shifting
Every year;
And we are seaward drifting
Every year;
Old pleasures, changing, fret us;
The living more forget us;
There are fewer to regret us,
Every year.

But the truer life draws nigher
Every year;
And its morning star climbs higher
Every year;
Earth's hold on us grows slighter,
And the heavy burden lighter,
And the dawn immortal brighter,
Every year.

—(William Cowan, in Chamber's Journal.)

The Pork Embargo.

BERLIN, Sept. 4.—United States Minister Phelps is receiving many messages of congratulation upon the removal of the embargo placed upon American pork. Mr. Phelps, yesterday, cabled Secretary Blaine at Bar Harbor, Maine, informing him of the repeal of the decree, adding: "May I, through you, congratulate the President upon the fact that under his auspices the long struggle to secure this right is successfully ended." Mr. Phelps managed the negotiations with great skill, but at the last moment, after the German Government had fully decided to have the decree signed September 1st, it looked as if there would be another delay by the hesitation of some of the petty States. Prussia, Bavaria and Saxony were ready to agree to the removal of the embargo, but two small Principalities hesitated and hesitated and threatened to delay the work. Finally, these two hesitating Principalities were brought into line. The decree, as signed, admits American pork into every part of Germany.

Turkish Brigandage.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 4.—It is stated upon good authority that the dismissal yesterday of the Turkish minister, Kiamil Pasha, was due to the Sultan's discontent at the spread of brigandage in Turkey. Recent outrages upon foreigners have been committed by Turkish brigands and demands for indemnity for such outrages have been brought by German and French ambassadors representing the powers whose subjects suffered by this lawlessness. It is understood an energetic campaign will be opened immediately, with the view of suppressing the lawlessness complained of.

Advices from Cuba show that the island's future grows darker. With banditti on one hand, robberies of Government officials on the other, and the enormous taxes for appropriations, the burdens of the people are becoming greater than they can bear. The banditti have reached a state similar to that of the banditti in Italy years ago. No traveler is safe on the roads or in country villas.

Edison is now at work on an electric motor to replace the ordinary locomotive. It is designed to take up electricity from a central rail, and to develop at least 1000 horse-power.

For Headache.

Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.
Dr. J. H. SANFORD, Sheffield, Mass., says: "Most excellent in derangements of the nervous system, such as headache and sleeplessness."

A FINISHED PRAYER.

As It Closed on Earth Its Echo Was Caught Up in Heaven.

The sick-room was very still; the night-lamp burned low, and the watchers made fantastic shadows on the wall, but no one moved or spoke. The doctor said this was the turning point of the disease, and there was nothing to do but to wait—wait, writes Mrs. M. L. Rayne in the Detroit Free Press.

The boy slept and his father kept his eyes fixed upon the thin, wasted features, and watched for what he hoped would prove a new lease of life. The mother had gone to lie down and rest. The nurse sat near and dozed. At last the sick child suddenly opened his large bright eyes and said in a clear voice: "Papa."

"What, dear boy?" answered the father, softly.
"Is it near morning?"
"Yes, dear boy."
"And will I be well in the morning?"
"—I hope so," sobbed the poor father faintly.

There was a long silence, then the sick child moved restlessly on his pillows.
"I want to say my prayers," he murmured.
The father beckoned to the nurse and she brought the mother, who stole softly in and knelt on the other side of the bed.

"Lift me up," said the dying child in a full, clear voice; "hold me, papa, while I say my prayers."
He clasped his hands together and repeated like one who was dreaming:
"Our Father—which art in heaven—hallowed—be—thy—name—thy kingdom—come—thy kingdom—come—"

"Papa, I can't remember! I can't remember!"
"No matter, my dear boy, you can finish it in the morning."
Again he lay among the pillows like a pale lily and his eyes were open wide.

"I can't see you, papa," he murmured. "Will it soon be morning?"
"Yes, dear boy."
"And will I be well then?"
The poor father could not answer. No one spoke, and a faint light stole into the room that drowned the flickering rays of the night-lamp and shone rosy on the wall. Then suddenly a little voice filled the room. It was so sweet and clear that it sounded like a strain of music from celestial spheres. It was the dying boy finishing his prayer! When he came to the last clause he seemed groping in doubt.

"Forever and ever—forever and ever—" and with the words on his lips he drifted off to sleep again.
The rising sun shone into the room and lighted up its dim obscurity. It lay in golden bars on the white pillows, and touched the little face with a mocking glow of health and strength. Perhaps it weakened him, but in the valley of the shadow of death he could not discern, and with wide-open eyes that saw not, he murmured plaintively:
"Is it nearly morning, papa?"
"It is morning now, dear boy."

A smile trembled on the closed lips, there was a flutter of breath that came and went as the child clasped his thin hands together: "For-ever-and-ever—Amen!"—[E.]

EDUCATIONAL.

Less than half the children in Missouri of school age attend Sunday school.

The receipts at Chautauqua this season were 25 per cent. above those of last year.

A high school is to be established at Cassadaga Lake, N. Y., in connection with spiritualistic views of education.

About 1,400 members of Cambridge University, England, signed resolutions protesting against the admission of women to the University.

The University of the City of New York has just added a school of the science of education to itself, and hereafter will confer the degrees of Master and Doctor of Pedagogy.

The school census of Louisiana shows that out of a total school population of 370,226 only 85,000 children attend the public schools and many of these attend only two months in the year.

The University of Upsala, in Sweden, during the present term has an attendance of 1,658. Of these 254 are in the Theological Department, 740 in the Philosophical, 443 in the Law, and 221 in the Medical.

Eight institutions have each an enrollment of over one thousand students, and seven report between 500 and 1000. Nor is it the old colleges in the East alone which draw their pupils by the hundreds, but Harvard's 2,271 students and Yale's 1,645 are paralleled by Ann Arbor's 2,153 and Oberlin's 1,709.

VICTORIA, September 15.—The St. George, the largest private yacht afloat, and now on a pleasure tour around the world with the owner, E. J. Wythes, of Berkley Hall, Kent, and a party of friends, arrived here from Yokohama yesterday. She is a new steamer, bark rigged, built of steel, sheathed with teak and elaborately finished. Her register is almost 900 and displacement over 1000 tons. From here she goes to San Francisco, then to the Sandwich Islands and Australia, returning to England next year.—Examiner.

It is rumored that the Canadian Pacific steamers will soon call at San Francisco to cut into the freight business of the Pacific Mail and Occidental and Oriental lines.

NEWS AND NOTES.

The German government has decided to establish a complete telegraph system on the German East African coast.

Herr A. Noll, of Beringer, in the Black Forest, has invented a clock warranted to go without winding until A. D. 9999.

Wonderful indeed was the escape of a Chicago slater who fell thirty-five feet from a building without incurring serious injury.

By a recent appliance to kitchen ranges the refuse from the kitchen is thoroughly dried, converted into charcoal and used as fuel.

The smallest church in the world is at St. Lawrence, near Ventnor, Isle of Wight. It has a seating capacity for twelve people.

Cable trains, horse-cars, double-trolley and single-trolley cars all pass over one section of a street railway track in Cincinnati.

Out of eleven children originally in the Neville family of Lewiston, Me., six are now living, with an average age of over 75 years.

Persons with divining rods are searching for ancient Spanish gold supposed to be buried in the banks of the Ohio, near New Albany, Ind.

To clean a teakettle take it away from the fire and wash off with a rag dipped in kerosene, followed by a rubbing with a dry flannel cloth.

For simple hoarseness take a fresh egg, beat it and thicken with pulverized sugar. Eat freely of it and the hoarseness will soon be relieved.

The happy re-union of two sisters who had been separated for thirty-three years was caused by an advertisement in a Brooklyn newspaper.

Probably the rarest stamp in existence has just been sold in London for £250. It is an American 5-cent stamp issued at Battleboro, Vt., in 1840.

Pittsburg machinists are "beating" the nickel-in-the-slot cigar machines by dropping in steel buttons the exact size and weight of a five-cent piece.

A woman who solicited alms at an elevated railroad station in New York, received $37.19 in three hours. The fact was brought out in a police court.

There is said to be but one place in the world where absolute pure sugar is made. This manufactory is in Germany, and supplies chemists and druggists with the chemically pure article.

The present heir to the Austrian throne, Archduke Francis, is reputed as having equaled the late Prince Rudolph in his dissipated life; but, fortunately, he has toned down a bit since the death of his cousin.

During the recent session of England's Parliament 7,422 luncheons and 10,195 dinners were served in the dining-room, 1,564 luncheons and 1,069 dinners were served in the strangers' dining-room, and 210 luncheons and 1,301 dinners were served in the terrace dining-room.

The German Emperor has won the hearts of the ladies by refusing to drink anything but sweet champagne. Usually the liking for sweet wines is looked upon as most weak and womanish, and the ladies rejoice in having an ally who is every inch a man, a king and an emperor besides.

The China on her last trip broke the record between Yokohama and San Francisco by making a passage of 12 days, 11 hours and 55 minutes. It is two days and a half longer than that of the Empress of Japan from Yokohama to Vancouver. The officers of the China claim that she can make the trip in 11 days.
